Dear Mr. Pena,

If you recall Mr. Liebeler's questioning when you appeared before him during the Commission's investigation, the enclosed will enable you to understand some of the questions. If you have any comment, I would be glad to receive it.

Do these address in New Orleans mean anything to you (as of what could have been there in 1963):

117 Camp Street, 1032 Canal? What is the address of the Maison Blanche Building?

You may keep the enclosure if you'd like. It is part of an FBI report. In turn, that is part of another FBI report that is part of a series. It is from the Commission's 984th file.

I note this says the Cuban Revolutionary Council disbanded in 1961. Did it not continue to operate longer?

Who do you suppose might have been responsible for the report to "T-2" that you were going to Moscow?

For the information on the addresses to be of value, it must reach me promptly.

Sincerely yours,

Harold Weisberg
